

The Kickstand: An HD Projector That Unfolds Before Your Eyes

The bēm wireless Kickstand is a high performance portable projector... Not to mention the culmination 100's of hours to ensure the details were covered. A stylish aluminum metal band wraps and protects the outside of the unit. In it's "travel mode" the Kickstand folds up flat and is approximately the same width as an iPad. The unit can easily be packed into a messenger bag, briefcase or purse for usage ranging from presentations to parties. When it's time to use the project, the main "light box" easily folds out, the integrated kickstand pops back, and you're ready to roll film.

Just because it's so portable and easy to set up does not mean we compromised on quality. This bad boy has sleek, elegant finish with tech specs that will wow you for such a little device. From the unique, compact design to the high performance image - the Kickstand is outstanding.
