Product Description

The ViewSonic STND-059 is a Health Flex Hand Sanitizing Station capable of holding 24" or 27" LCD displays and a touchless dispenser for hands-free sanitizer. This stand utilizes a minimal footprint and can be adapted to include several options including media players, cameras or sensors for reading and analyzing data in real-time. The Health Flex Hand Sanitizing Station can also be adapted to include a signage platform to offer customers an advertising-based revenue stream by simply adding the media player with wired or wireless connectivity. Optional content management software licenses are available that can schedule unlimited advertising options, as well as impression monitoring statistics to provide feedback to advertisers. Highlight your commitment to your customers' health with the ViewSonic Health Flex Hand Sanitizing Station.
