Count on high power delivery that lasts longer than traditional chargers with the Targus® PowerElite™ 100W GaN Wall Charger. Powered by effective GaN technology, this charger packs a powerful punch with 4 ports — 2 USB-C® (with a single port use up to 100W) and 2 USB-A with quick-charge capabilities supporting up to 18W — so you could essentially charge your work laptop, personal laptop, phone, and tablet at the same time. GaN charging is more efficient in power transfer, so it uses less energy and disperses less heat as it works. This means cooler and safer charging for you. Like all Targus products, this charger passes strict quality and safety standards and meets UL requirements.

Whether you're working at the office, the lobby, or in the airport lounge, it's essential to be charged up for the journey. This charger is travel-friendly and comes with interchangeable plugs compatible with power outlets in over 140 countries in the Americas, Asia, Europe, and Australia. From its lightweight structure and slim, compact design, the charger won't take up prime real estate in your space. Its US plug has foldable prongs making it easy to slip into your briefcase or backpack on-the-go.
