

2013-14 Educational Product Catalog

At Crayola, we believe we have a responsibility to do what is right. That includes being a good corporate steward in the communities, countries, and world where we operate and where our products can be found. It means incorporating social and environmental priorities and practices into our Crayola brand, our products, and our relationships with customers, vendors, and consumers.

Great for Back to School Lists

Crayola crayons, markers, colored pencils, paints, and dry-erase are high-quality products you can trust! Crayola products ensure successful results for your students so you can assess their work, not the medium used. And we offer various sizes and innovative formulations to meet your classroom needs.

Especially for Young Children

Although Crayola products are perfect for children of all ages, in this catalog you will also find products appropriate for pre-school children. Art experiences with My First Crayola products engage and inspire toddlers while they create and grow! Other Crayola products, such as our Jumbo crayons, brushes, and watercolor paint build children's creativity, independence, and confidence through hands-on exploration.

Beneficial for Children with Special Needs

Engaging art experiences enable individuals of all ages to learn through various media and strengthen their motor and thinking skills. An array of convenient, adaptable Crayola modeling materials, drawing and painting tools are available for children and adults with special needs, such as Twistables Slick Stix (page 6), Triangular Crayons (page 5), Fingerpaint (page 21), Giant Sidewalk Chalk (page 32), and Model Magic (page 18).

Teachers need products that...

- Allow for high PERFORMANCE, so that they can fairly assess the child's work.
- Are a good VALUE, providing quality performance at a fair price.
- Are SAFE to use in schools.

Statement of Environmental Responsibility

Every day we learn more about best practices for protecting the environment. We take this issue very seriously and work hard to make a difference by complying with and exceeding industry standards for environmental sustainability. Our key environmental goal is to employ the three Rs: Reduce! Recycle! Reuse! We will apply this strategy to the production and distribution of our products and to all of our day-to-day business practices.

Crayola Eco-Evolution™

Here are some of the ways Crayola is conserving energy and making the products you love in a more environmentally friendly way:

- Solar panels provide enough energy to make one billion crayons and half a billion markers each year in the U.S.A.
- Using recycled plastic in our markers keeps hundreds of tons of plastic out of landfills each year.
- A new tree is planted for every one used to make our colored pencils.

High Performance

Crayola controls product color and the supply of color. Consistent color from batch to batch and year to year results from measuring color position with a spectrophotometer.

- Crayola designs products to be durable enough to last through repeat use in schools.
- Crayola believes color laydown and coverage are important indicators of product quality.
- The “Rub Out” machine tests a crayon’s ability to lay down color smoothly and evenly.
- Markers are tested for superior write-out length.
- Colored pencils are tested for consistent color laydown.

Product Value

High-performance products make a difference because lesser quality products vary in performance and poor quality materials can waste a school’s budget. Crayons that break easily, markers that dry out prematurely, and paints that do not mix well can be frustrating to use and needlessly limit the potential of a lesson plan.

Product Safety

Crayola products are identified as nontoxic based on published scientific data, independent testing, and the advice of toxicologists. Safety procedures and standards adhered to by Crayola include:

- Conform to all small parts regulations.
- Elongated and ventilated caps on markers.
- Manufacture using only raw materials that have been tested for purity.
- Require testing documentation from suppliers.
- Purchase all raw materials against exact specifications.
- All biocritical products undergo microbial analysis.
- Crayola product packaging labels conform to ASTM standard D-4236.
- Crayola products are certified nontoxic and safe, as indicated by the AP seal.

Representatives at 1-800-CRAYOLA are available weekdays from 9 AM to 4 PM EST to provide product information. Inquiries may also be submitted at www.Crayola.com.

Writing Product Specifications for School Purchasing

Be very specific in identifying the product to be purchased. Your description must not only describe the product but describe packaging, define performance standards, and require compliance with safety standards.

Crayons

Crayola crayon true hues and pigments with smooth, even laydown offer versatility in a variety of techniques, so using them is as much fun as the end result.

Watercolors are a great way to teach color mixing and timeless techniques that stimulate creativity. More paint in each pan means more pictures to display. Washable watercolor sets are even refillable! A wet brush picks up hues easily and releases true, mixable colors. All hard-working, high-value sets come with a durable, pointed-tip brush — and the sectioned, white plastic lid functions as a mixing tray.

Crayola

For more than a century,
consumers have felt good about using our products because they trust the Crayola brand to deliver superior quality children's art materials that are safe and nontoxic.

In 1936, Binney & Smith became a founding member of the Crayon, Watercolor, and Craft Institute, now the Art and Creative Material Institute (ACMI) promoting product safety in art materials for children. We were also one of the first companies to list toxicity information on paint labels and to identify colors chemically, as well as by international color standards. We adhere to all governmental and industry safety standards and have our products reviewed by an independent toxicologist.

The AP (Approved Product) seal of the ACMI that you'll find on Crayola products means they are nontoxic even if ingested and are independently certified to contain no materials in sufficient quantities to be harmful to humans, or to cause acute or chronic health problems. Our formulas also undergo extensive toxicological examination, and our procedures are reviewed by the ACMI's toxicology advisory board to ensure that proper standards are maintained.

Our products are also certified by ACMI to be labeled in accordance with the chronic hazard labeling standards, ASTM D-4236, and the U.S. Labeling of Hazardous Art Materials Acts (LHAMA). As required by ASTM D-4236, the ACMI provides Poisindex with information on Crayola art products that may be obtained by consumers calling their local or regional poison control center.

Additionally, some products bearing the AP seal are certified to meet or exceed specific requirements or material, workmanship, working qualities, and color described in the appropriate product standard developed by the ACMI and other recognized standards organizations. The ACMI can be contacted for product requirements and compliance at (781) 293-4100.

The safety of our products and our consumer trust is something we take very seriously, and we will continue to maintain that trust every day. Visit Crayola.com to learn more about Our Commitment to Crayola Product Safety.
