K97448WW

Product Description

Whether it's the classroom, conference room or family room, the iPad has changed how people find and share information. The BlackBelt 2nd Degree Rugged Case with Screen Protector is the ultimate protection, with a design that passes military-grade drop testing. A thin screen protector is simple to install, and because it's rigid it eliminates those annoying air bubbles, and the textured rubber prevents the case from sliding off a desk or table. And to prevent drops in the first place, the case features a hand strap that makes holding your iPad easier. It also has a built-in, two-position stand that lets you work, or play, hands-free.
