Safeguard your Microsoft® Surface Pro X with premium scratch-resistant protection. Made from Japanese Asahi glass with the highest-possible 9H hardness rating, Targus Tempered Glass Screen Protectors keep your tablet scratch-free even after run-ins with keys, coins, and other stray objects. In fact, they're so durable that we confidently back them with a limited lifetime warranty.*

Along with superior protection, this screen protector features a protective coating that shields your data from casual viewers. The screen offers an opaque view of your screen to anyone not directly in front of your Surface Pro or closer than 30° to either side. So you can view, read, or type with confidence, even in a crowded room.

*For Targus Tempered Glass Screen Protectors, a limited lifetime warranty on the screen protector for as long as the original end purchaser owns the product. The warranty does not extend to any devices or product not manufactured by Targus.
